

PLEASE PRINT & TAKE TO YOUR VET

Dear Veterinary Surgeon,

This information sheet has been downloaded from our website www.animal-allergy.com.

Avacta Animal Health provide specialist serological allergy testing services to veterinary practices across the UK and Ireland in the form of our SENSITEST[®] Allergy Tests.

An allergy is a reaction through contact, ingestion or inhalation of an allergen, such as pollens, insects or foods. If an animal is repeatedly exposed to an allergen the resistance of their immune system will weaken often resulting in poor health. Serological allergy testing requires only a small blood sample and can be easily used for cats, dogs and horses of all sizes. The tests are standardised, reproducible and are not affected by skin pathologies, and the procedure requires minimal clipping meaning it is aesthetically preferable for pet owners.

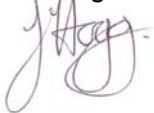

Avacta Animal Health are equipped with outstanding technology for ELISA test manufacture, laboratory testing and rigorous quality control. We offer an integrated portfolio of allergy products and services for the following companion animals:

- Dogs
- Cats
- Horses

Our portfolio of tests include Environmental Allergens (Indoor & Outdoor), Food Allergens, Malassezia, Sarcoptes and Staphylococcus. We can also provide products and therapies, including desensitisation vaccines.
