What can cause allergic symptoms in your home?

House dust mites are the major cause of allergic symptoms in the home, but there are other causes such as animal hair and pollen grains.

Did you know?

These microscopic house dust mites feast on shed hair and skin. They love beds, carpets and sofas. They can cause allergic skin diseases and respiratory problems such as asthma.

Completely removing these creatures is impossible but the treatments and hints detailed in this leaflet will reduce their presence.

Handy House Dust Mite Hints

- Regular vacuuming/dry cleaning/steam cleaning of fabrics and furnishing
- Change to wooden, laminate or vinyl floors instead of carpets
- Change to blinds or lightweight, washable curtains
- Install air conditioning/open the windows regularly
- Regular washing of bedding at high temperatures
- Limit your pet's access to one room in the house

The products detailed in this leaflet are effective in detecting and countering the causes of these allergic symptoms.

For pets with positive SENSITEST® Environmental test results, immunotherapy vaccines may be considered to manage the allergic symptoms - your veterinary surgeon will advise on this treatment.

We shed about 5kg of skin and hair per year that's enough to feed 1 million mites!

Who are you sharing your bed with?

Does your pet sleep on the bed or snooze on the sofa? Check for the presence of house dust mites using this simple kit.

The unique device screens a sample of dust from bedding, fabrics, carpets or furnishings and analyses it for the presence of house dust mites within 10 minutes.

It is useful to initially detect areas where house dust mites are most concentrated prior to treatment with HealthGuard™ Total Hygiene DM-1 spray.

Use a kit at regular intervals to monitor key areas and ensure your treatment regime is working.

- Easy to use
- Detects both UK species of House Dust Mite*
- Results are compatible with laboratory tests
- Full instructions included

Please note: this is a single use device so you will need more than one kit to check each area i.e. carpet, mattress, duvet etc. where the mites are likely to be most concentrated.

**Dermatophagoides pteronyssinus* and Dermatophagoides farinae.

Your pillow could contain 10 million mites and their faeces!
